

JEANNE HARGRAVE

BIOGRAPHY

What began as a passion for natural beauty and wildlife developed into a lifelong pursuit of exploring the backroads for Jeanne Hargrave. Armed with her bicycle and boundless energy, she mapped out routes and documented her journeys with audio transcripts and traditional photography. Over the years, she developed her expertise and her photographic eye, archiving each adventure and organizing her images by synchronizing her transcripts to mile markers, maps and memory. Eventually she became a highly respected and much sought after bicycling guide in North Florida. She continues to travel on two wheels, expanding her knowledge of the environment, documenting her adventures of the open road and sharing her findings with others in the form of useful data.

JEANNE HARGRAVE <http://memory.org/biknjeanne>

1 Sea Lion, Bandon Marsh Wildlife Refuge, April 2005; 2 BiknJeanne and Sea Lion (Photo by Rebecca Hargrave Malamud), Bandon Marsh Wildlife Refuge, April 2005; 3 A Little West of East Helena, Montana, (5 megapixel panoramic image stitched in Photoshop) June 2005.

